Take no Substitute for Royal Baking Powder. It is Absolutely Pure.

All others contain alum or ammonia.

Secret Societies.	BAILBOAD T
T 0, 0, FWest Side Lo go No. 34's, meets every	ATCHISON, TOPES
L. Wednesday eventage in Marriason litteria,	TRAINS.
O. O. F.—North Wichita lodge, No. 348, monts w. H. Walki, N. G. G. G. North Main et. J. A. B.Ski, Soc. Soc. J. F. Shitzi, Nor ne'r.	NORTH AND EAST, No 414 Kansas City E No. 404 Chicago Vest Fast Express.
TOA HEBBY CA. No. 177, I. O. O. F. meets every bridgy evening.	No. 68 Missouri Rive press. *No 48 Englewood Ex
A. F.&A.M.—Sunflower Indirements in Palace. Slock, West Side, every second and fourth browday.	No. 418 Local Freight. No. 428 Pasng'r
F. OF PWarwick lodge, No. 11 meets every North Main Street. Visiting Knights are cordially	No. 65 Caldwell and Handle Express

SECOND

Demorest Silver Medal

CONTEST FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

Tuesday Evening, October 30th

Mrs. J. B. HATHAWAY. ADMISSION 10 & 15 CENTS. ALL ARE WELCOME

SEE PROGRAM

CHAWFORD GRAND OPERA HOUSE, One Night, Oct. 30.

THE GREATEST HIT OF THE AGE, CHARLEY'S AUNT.

By Brandon Thomas. Direction of 8 Months in New York City 6 Months in Boston.

4 Months in Chicago.

Prices: $1.00, 75c, 50c, 25c. Seats now on sale at Chas. Mostacher's and

THE NEXT

MASQUERADE BALL

A. O. U. W. HALL

Wednesday Evening, October 31 SHAW'S ORCHESTRA.

Parties who received invitations to our first Mask off are cordialry invited to attend this one. Cos-me and masks at the half. Invitations, pro-ma and theless at Shaw's Masks store. ADMISSION—Ladles, 25 contra Gentlemen, 24 conts. N. R.—Benemier, no improved persons and al-H. Remember no improper persons are all id to attend any entertainments given at thi

TRAWFORD GRAND OPERA BOUSE. ONE NIGHT ONLY, THURSDAY, NOV. 1 Special engagement of the nat-ural Irish comedian, vocalist

TONY - FARRELL In a scenic production of his new

GARRY OWEN Garments trucalled for will be closed out this week. Wichita Tailoring Co. 134:1

HEAR The Garry Owen Quartette.
The Grand Church Choir. SEE The Great Chapel Scene, The Great Prison Scine. The Thrilling Escape.

Prices: $1.00, 75c, 50c, 25c. Seats now on sale at Chas. Mosbacher and

CRAWFORD GRAND OPECA HOUSE. FRIDAY NIGHT, NOV. 2. The Champion of the World,

JAMES J. CORBETT "GENTLEMAN JACK.

25 | TALENTED PLAYERS | 25

Prices-$1.00, lie. No. lie. Seats on sale Monday merning at 9 o'clock at Chis, Musbacher's and box office.

CRAWFORD GRAND OPERA HOUSE, O. N. LOWEN, Local Manager SATURDAY, NOV. 3. TWO HIS SHOWS IN ONE-

A Cold Day. A Chip of the Old Block.

8 | TWO DISTINCT PLAYS | 2 A Revelation in Fun.

Prices $140, Nr. Se. Se. Seats on sale at Char-

RUBY COAL.

We prefer the Ruby to any coal that we pay ever used. Mr. Com can't say too much for it, its a great coal.

Manual flows MAHAN BROS.

Now is the time to drink Egg phosphate. Bet the best at Wallace's soda fountain.

106-rf.

"I would rather trust that medicine than any doctor I know of, says Airs, Hattie Mason of Chilbon, Carrer Co., Mo., in speaking of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Distribus Remark.

A cheap second-hand bank counter, a chesp second hand vault door. A dress 8 care of Engle. 141-21

New York face specialist, in town for a few days only. Guaranteed cure of pimples, freckles, moles, warts and all eruntions of the skin. Consultation free Parlors at Cook's 155 North Topeka eve. opposite Y. M. C. A. building. Office lawars from 8 to 19:30 a. m. 1:30 to 8 p. m. Don't fail to call as it casts you nothing to consult with the doctor.

IME TABLES SA & BANTA PE DA. ABBITCH LEAVE 150 AM 145 PM 155 PM r Ex-fora €50 A 30 Express Withits Express o dii Englewood Accom. 1210 P H 100 P H WICHITA AND WESTERN.

*No. 401, Kingman and I modation.	ratt secom-
* Daily except Sanday
ET. LOUIS & SAN E	IANCISCO R.	n.
THAINS.	ARRIVE	DEPARTS
No. 1 west bound also Elsworth daily No. 2 west bound E worth daily No. 4 cast bound daily No. 2 cast bound daily	533 a m	155 p m
MESSOCIET PACTE	IC BAILWAY.
THEAT UM.	ATDITION !	DEPART
Chicago & Entwise City ex. (From Authors) St. Louis Hall & Express	800 p. m.	966 p.m. 160p.m.
(From Denver) Mixed Express (Antiony, mixed) WEST	31:65 a. m.	tiep m.
Mixed Express. Ter Arthony & Klowai St. Lords Mail & Express.	1:37a. m.	feelp.m.
Clo Denvery Chicago & Kansas City ilx.	titia m.	Site, in elne designated as ocal or mixed do not run or For full information call at city ticket office, its s fillip, m.

nin street.
De jor corner Second and Wichita streets.
E. E. BERCKLEY, P. and T. A.

ERATES.	ARREST	LEAVE
cothe Newrit And East, No. 2 Knows City St. Louis and Chicago Hmited, dally No. 2 Colorado Springs.	505 A 16	S-60A M
Express daily Express daily No. (Kansas City St Louis	DISAM	940 A M and Chicago eight ex- dully, except Sunday	31 30 r-st	11 15 p.st tielly except Similar. Coing south And West No. 1. Okiahoma and Texas	31 10 A M	12 01 r at exinces dally. So. I. Ft. Worth, New Or. leans and Pacific Coast ex.	7 (2 P 3)	7 07 th st daily. No. 3. Oklahoma ex. daily	7.02 p.st	107PM
except Sunday	5 15 A M	518 A H
No. 3t. Accord dally except	2 00 2 30	235 P.M

Element 'colloine chait cars on all trains, and railinan elements from Wichita to Kansas City and Lukame without cleanes on high trains. Tokets sold and traines processed through to all points touch, south, east and west, and steamship lickets sold to all European points at lowest rates. For the light trains 100 has bongins avenue, cross flag street, passenger starten corner Douglas and Mead venues. Telephone II. Philippine II. Telephone II.

This cold snap will require you to buy a winter last. See Mrs. Wilman's if you want agood article very, very cheep. 130 North Main, up stairs. dl41 it

Night school opens Monday night, October I. Bookkeeping, penmanship, short-hand and typewriting. For further par-ticulars call at cellege office, corner Doug-las and Topeka avenues. 114 tf

If you are looking for the cheapest place in this state to buy millinery go to Mrs. Wilman's, as she is selling out to go away and many things are sold regardless of cost. 130 North Main, up stars. 141 1t

For bran, ship, corn, oats and hav; W. F. Fuckett 119 W. Douglas, d&w54tf

"Many of the citizens of Rainsville, In-diana are never without a bottle of Cham-berlain's Cough Remedy in the house," says Jacob Brown, the leading merchant of the place. This Remedy has proven of so much value for colds and croup in chil-dren that few mothers who know its worth are willing to be without it.

BUCK ISLAND HOUTE,

Cheap Rates.

Harvest excursions at one fare plus $2.00 or the round trip. Takets sold Oct. 25 and Nev. 6 to all points in Texas. Return and Nov. 6 to all points in Texas. Return limit twenty days, good to stop off in both directions. Texas state fair at Dallas, Tex., Oct. 20 to Nov. 14. Round trip, $13,65 Tickets sold Oct. 19 and 26 and Nov. 2. Final limit Nov. 16. 127-25 J. H. PHILAITS, Ticket Agent.

Fachings stables at Orlando and Still water. We make a specialty of carrying passengers between these points. Travel passengers between the ling faces a patronage solicited, survey, Vanwycz & Shively, WICHITA COMMERCIAL COLLEGE, Y. M. C. A. Building.

Night school now in session. Best advantages in the city. Bookkeeping, shorthend, typewriling, arithmetic, penman ship and spelling thoroughly taught by experienced teachers. Call and get terms. 19-11 E. H. ROBINS, President. TRAVEL

Via the St. Louis and San Francisco Railway from Wichita to St. Louis and the East. Better than Cancon City. Saves you $3 per ton. Lasts one third longer, has no smoke, seet or clinkers, the for coak stove, heater, furnace, and open parlor grate. Fry a sample—free of charge. Sold only by Wientra Coat Co. Office SIS E. Donglos, Phone 23.

We prefer the Kuby to any coal that we Passenger Station, corner Douglas ave and Fifth ave. 652 if ADVICE TO MOTHERS. Mrs. Winslow's Secthing Syrup should always be used for children teething. It see the child, softens the cume allers scothes the child, softens the gums, allays, all pair, cures wind colle, and is the best remedy for diarrives. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Used by willians of mothers.

Tours be the Booky Mountains.
The "Scoole Line of the World," the Deliver and Rio Grande railroad, off is to couriets in Colorade, Utah and New Mexico the choicest resorts, and to the transcontinental traveler the grandest scenery. Pullman sleepers and tourist cars between Denver and San Francisco and Los Angeles For illustrated books address S. A Boover, General Passenger and Ticket agent, Denver.

dio-if site Y. M. C. A. building. Office learns from 8 to 19-30 a. m. 1-30 to 8 p. m. Dou't fall to call as it costs you nothing to consult with the doctor.

We have drinks for all kinds of weather. Try our great new drink, September Blessing. Wallace's, 30 East Douglas.

100 if.

Emperor William's Sons Are Kept Under His Thumb.

Boy Princes Who Work Hard-Son Trey Dance While Bismarck Plays the Organ - Duty Always Put Foremost.

ICOPPRIGHT, 1894. RMED with a few lines from the American into the inner writing, no difficulty in penetrating

opularly acquired

RULING HIS HOUSE hued silk, the ceiling showing a pretty garland of flowers and buds, with butterflies hovering round about. The bath is a niche, to which two marble steps are leading up. The tub is a large and deep one of copper repousse, and on the opposite side of the wall is a tall mirror of Venetian glass. Next to this niche a narrow winding stair leads up to the much simpler furnished apartments of the princes, the young-est child, a little girl less than two years old, remaining as yet always in the close proximity of the empress.

The apartments of the princes are divided into two sets, one of these belin I found, ing reserved for the eldest, the crown after proper ap- prince, Frederick William, and the rest being in use for the five "little princes." The crown prince, slightly over eleven years old, has had his own suite of rooms, shared with his "gouverneur" or resident educator, ever since his e h a m b e r s sixth year, and these apartments con-where the im-perial Hohen- all fitted up in severe simplicity zollerns, both drawing, sitting, bed and dress rooms, oung and old, have their being while as well as a small kitchen, where dishes in this city. Differing in that respect may be warmed up or prepared at a from their papa, who by reason of his minute's notice, in case the regular wonounced liking for travel has meal hours have been unavoidably the nickname missed. Adjoining his rooms are those der Reise-Kaiser," the six sons of of his five younger brothers-Eitel all the time, both winter and summer, and their mode of living is an extremely methodical one. What I have seen and learned, more particularly about the young princes, I'll tell here in the same aphoristic way in which it came to my knowledge. Some of it, at least, will prove of interest to American readers, inasmuch as it shows how the "king business" has to be studed diligently and particularly from childhood up in order to be at all successfully conducted in this age of fierce competition, and also because from it may be seen once more how the Hohenzollerns have attained to their present. preeminence among the potentates of this earth-by putting duty always foremost and doing everything with a set purpose.

The royal castle in Berlin, that immense but rather unattractive looking pile facing Unterden Linden, had practically been uninhabited and abandoned for several generations, when the present emperor ascended the throne. But William II. caused the enormous building to be fitted up once more for occupancy and had the interior especially furnished and changed to suit his taste his application to study as the eldest, -a taste, let it be said, which is quite he is almost on a par with him in the refined and correct. Thus, the old, matter of actual attainment the emperor stay at home nearly Fritz, aged ten; Adalbert, nine; Augustus William, seven; Oscar, six, and Joachin, five. Together they have one large play-room, by far the handsomest and most attractive, and made more so by a frieze eighteen inches wide which is woven of linen and gold thread and which runs around the walls at at height of five feet from the ground. On this frieze ares painted, by he most talented Berlin artists, scenes of boyish life, showing happy children rowing in skuffs, picking fruit from trees, harvesting hay, bathing in the river, etc., etc. Of the five younger princes the second one, Eitel Fritz, is the acknowledged leader. He is as tall and even stronger than his senior, the crown prince, and is by far the handsomest and most gifted of them all. He, it is said, is the favorite of his mother and of a lively, adventurous spirit. His odd name, Eitel Fritz, is due to the unearthing of an ancient Brandenburg name which once was frequently held by some member of the Hohenzollern family. Adalbert, the third boy, is also quite good-looking, generous, frank and brave, and though not as steadfast in worn main stone flight of stairs leading | The daily routine of all the six

up to his own apartments was replaced princes is inexorably prescribed and by a magnificent one of white murble, adhered to, and many a plebeian Amerwith balustrades of the same material, ican boy has a better time of it than and all the hangings, rugs, mural deco- these little sprigs of royalty. Every rations, etc., were renewed and per-fectly harmonized in their color effets. Without speaking of those high cere-sisting merely of tea and rolls, at monial apartments and vast halls seven-thirty. Punctually at eight their which are pretty well known to tourists lessons begin. Usually the crown and the general public, I'll mention prince takes his separately under both some of those rooms where the foot of his military and civil tutors, but once the sightseer and even of the omnipres-ent newspaper correspondent but sel-Adalbert join in his lessons, so as to be able to compare exactly results ob-The bedroom jointly occupied by the tained with each and to act on them as emperor and empress is reposeful and a spur. During recess and during leis simple in its appointments and style of are hours, they go, in summer time decoration. Grayish green panels when they live with their parents in around the walls, and the rest is the new palace, into the "play gardrbped in large flowered cretonne, den," where they are allowed to indulge while the handsomely painted ceiling in gymnastic exercises, ball playing, while the handsomely painted ceiling in gymnastic exercises, ball playing, in gymnastic exercises, ball playing, and some section it may be said that their father, the emperor, parts. The settings and furniture are comfortable and of unostentations elegance. Directly adjoining is the smaller outdoor sports, and that he entheir outdoor sports and that he entheir outdoor sports and that he entheir outdoor sports are disconnection it may burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore headed in nutriles of the contract of the er boudoir and bathroom of the em- their outdoor sports, and that he entheir outdoor sports, and that he encourages in his own family as well as its appointments and throughout tinguates which and gold, while the furniture is unhoistered in mignonette Children Cry for

Pitcher's Castoria.

their outdoor sports, and that he encourages in his own family as well as the sure of the angle of the angle

At 9:30 the princes have their "sec ond breakfast," consisting of sand-viches and claret, toned down with German mineral water which is effervescent and slightly aperient in its effect. Then the course of lessons is continued. The curriculum comprises, so far as the three elder princes are concerned, German grammar and literature, caligraphy, geography and history, Latin, English, French, mathematies, military instruction, both tac-tical and practical, together with drawing. Later on many more ad-vanced studies will be added, even a knowledge of Italian and Russian.

Lessons are followed up by instruction in horseback riding and fencing, either in the riding academy when the weather is not favorable, or else in the open air, and this is supplemented by an excursion on horseback to the im-mediate neighborhood, semetimes the Thiergarden, or else a drive in the pretty pony chaise, when the crown prince handles the reits. For the military education of these royal children the emperor had built last year a miniature fort on the Drachenberg, near the New palace in Potsdam. after drawings made by Krupp in en and entirely erected under careful supervision of a high grade artillery officer, now an employe of Krupp. This fort is by no means a mere It is the exact reproduction on a small scale, correct in every detail, of the most modern style of fortification. There is a ditch filled with water surrounding the fort; the walls proper rise to the height of ten feet, and behind them are the casements, also movable steel turrets bearing fortification ordnance of the latest pattern, and by an ingenious mechanical device these guns can be instantly placed in position behind the erenelated walls, eady to pour forth shot. The emperor himself takes a vivid interest in this small fort, as he does in everything touching the studies and amusements of his youngsters. He is, too, a very affectionate and tender father and husband, and has given his high regard for his wife more than once public and appreciative expression. He does not allow the empress, however, any interference in political matters, and while she was, even before her marriage, a sincere admirer and advocate of Prince Bismarck, she was unable to prevent Dinner, which is served promptly at a quarter past one, is partaken of by the princess in company of either their stantial and well-prepared meal, consisting of soup, fish, one roast, vegetawater. At half past two all the princes go to the park to play, and the elder below ones among them ride the tricycle or and bicycle if they choose. At six supper is served, either in cold or warm dishes, so far, but there is no saying what may yet happen. The empress is still young looking, vigorous and extremely fond of all her children.

The three eldest princes are now duly installed as members of the First Guard Regiment or Foot, and when the crown prince, a year ago, on his completed tenth year, was commissioned a second It may be, however, that the wife lieutenant in that crack corps—follow-rejoices in this interference and finds it ing the tradition in the Hohenzollern a relief unspeakable to be spared family for the past one hundred and all trouble and all responsibility. eighty years-and gallantly marched. She is indolent and self indulgent, past his mother's eye, his father per- and lets herself sink futo the sonally leading the whole regiment, in his picturesque uniform with the curious high peaked grenadier's cap, that fine clothes and laid on soft cushions imperial lady shed tears of motherly taken out for an airing in the sight of William II. is not so much the autocrat kept from all the dignity of self-reas he is the indulgent, kind father. straint, the education of experience, Many anecdotes circulate here which the ennobling influence of active duillustrate this. One of the most charm- ties. One knows women of this kind, ing-and vouched for by indisputable absolutely destitute of the womanly inauthority-will bear repeating. It was stinct of household managementin the fall of 1889, when Bismarck-a women who look on every detail of dogreat favorite of all the young princes mestic life as an indignity, and who peror's cabinet to have his daily con- they have to order a dinner or see to ference with the monarch. In passing the fit arrangement of the guest-chamby the princes' play room he heard ber. Ask such women what they think laughter and music, and the door be- they were born for, and they will aning ajar he peoped in. In one corner of swer: the room stood the crown prince turn- no trouble." With no more maternal ing the crank of an organ, while his instinct than they have womanly aptwo younger brothers were dancing to preciation, they have no love for their the lively music and the other two children, if they have any, and no de little fellows were romping on the sire for them if they have none. floor. Bismarck silently entered, when they come, they are given up to the Prince Eitel Fritz ran towards him and nurse as things with which she has all marck, dance with us!" The old Grown older, they are sent to chancellor smilingly replied: "No, I'm school or delivered over to the too old for that. My joints are too stiff. governess without much anxiety as to But if the crown prince will join you their well-being under neglect here, dancing, I'll play the organ for him irresponsible power there. In no case good ten minutes, when the door only feeling is one of dismay as she opened and the emperor himself entered, smiling in his turn. "Well, entered, smiling in his turn "Well, that is nice of you, Prince Bismarck," he remarked, "to humor the children ter will have to be taken out and inso much. But," rasing his finger threateningly, "you begin rather early in letting the crown primes dance to your piping. That's the fourth generation that is thus following your lead."

WOLF VON SCHIERBRAND

Fond Mother-Do you think my daughter will become a fine planist? Prof. Von Thump-I am afrait nod, madame. But after another year's bractice, her fingers vill be limbered up so dot she can make a prilliant success mit a typewriter.-Good News.

As Inferior Article. Young Woman-I bought these-hairpins here yesterday for a first class article. Dealer-Don't they wear well?

Young Woman-Well, I should say they don't. Why, I ruined five trying to unlock my trunk.-Judge.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purpose for which it is intended as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week posses but some member of the family has need of it. A touthache or heatache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or and bruises should receive immediate

THEIDEALHUSBAND

Lynn Linton Discusses His Qualities and His Duties.

Trench Upon His Wife's Domain, Else the Wife Becomes Either Irri-

between mar-That dream of ung love, all kisses and poetry, each other's eyes and the sweet influences of the moonlight, passes with time and use, just as the exquisite freshness of the spring passes into the mature amplitude of the summer, and this again into the nobie fruitfulness of the autumn. We cannot have it always springtime and apple blossoms; nor can the early raptures of the honeymoon continue through the working years of life. With the happiest marriage in the world this ecstacy cools down into friendship-sweet and tender and faithful and confidential, but no more like the exultation of the first days than the ruddy apples of September are like the pink apple blossoms of May. Marriage is essentially a matter of give and take-of overlapping spheres. independent though conjoined - of equal rights differently manifestedyet with the necessity of one supreme head, one authoritative voice when grave occasion demands an absolute and final decision. The grand cause of quarrel generally rests on the question: Whose is that voice to be? Is the husband or the wife to be the court of ultimate appeal? Are his thoughts to override her wishes, or her wishes to peutralize his principles? Outside these grave occasions, however, which, according to us of the old school, both justify and dignify the exercise of marital authority, the man who intermilitary or "civil" tutors. It is a sub- feres with his wife's duties and trenches on her rightful domain is sure to come to the grief he deserves, if his bles and potatoes, one sweet dish, but- wife be of the true sort, with a due ter, bread, cheese and fresh fruit in sense of self-respect and a right estiseason. For wine they have claret with mate of her apportioned duties. She resents his interference in matters not belonging to him; perhaps she fights bickers-perhaps she sullenly withdraws and gives way, letting him usurp the place which belongs to her, according to season and weather, and and contenting herself as she best can then they are permitted to play at their with "make-ups" of various kinds. If bathed and sent to bed promptly at nuisance; if she plunges into dissipation and finds happiness only the plunges in the plung energies to art, her ambition to literature, and lets her home go as it will, her husband alone is to blame. Others suffer, and no one more than the wife does to him!

herself, but he is responsible though, Indeed, mighty little harm that fact position of a favorite toy or a living doll that has to be dressed in boys, too, an admiring -was on his way to the em- hold themselves worthy of all pity if "To be taken care of and have "Please, please, Prince Bis- and the mother herself nothing to do. And so he did, and for a are they the mother's care she whose contemplates the time when her tall ter will have to be taken out and introduced. Such women as these are essentially western odalisques-creatures of idleness and luxury, doing no good to anyone. There is this difference between them: The western married odalisque lives for herself alone, taking all, giving back nothing The final cause of the other is the pleasure of the man. Between these different manifestations—these "reasons why" of moral degradation-there is not a pin to choose. The one is selfishness, the other servitude; and both are destructive of womanly nobility.

At the other end of the scale stands the obedient husband, complaisant, lacke, perhaps indifferent for the one part, and self-dishonoring for the other. This is the man who takes things as they come, and makes no complaint how had soever or inadequate they may be. He allows his wife unlimited authority, with liberty to correspond. She is absolute mistress of the family life. It is she who chooses the schools for her boys; she who determines on their professional career; she who regulates their allowances, moral and material. The husband is nowhere, while she is shiguitous as well as prenominant. The holds her husband in a leash even shorter and more tightly strained than that wherein she holds her own sons and daughters. his fortune; derides his principles if they do not agree with her own; and jament outs an effectual stop to his I aled him.

ambition-if his polities are not her own-by threatening to canvass the phatically Mistress Uppermost, and he is her helot. But is this the ideal? Can this be said to be the busband mothers desire for their daughters or such as these daughters themselves would dream of before they were percented! Either of these examples -the man who takes on himself the duties and offices of his wife, whether through tyranny or whether because of over-indulgence -or the man who gives his wife her head at the expense of his own dignity-is emphatically not one of the ideal kind dreamed of and desired by

To make himself respected. Il sanar wants to be happy in his marriage he must look on this as the spell by which that heaven is to be opened. Every woman-the most masterful there is the most restlessly desirous of her own way, whether got by direct command or cajolery-every woman loves best the man she respects most—the man whose love for her is in its turn bound up with his respect for her. She knows that were she to fall below her best self she would lose both that love and that respect. There must be no paltering with degradation of mind or body if she is to retain her place in his heart. He does not look leniently on "tame cats," on extravagance, on undutifulness, on want of maternal care, on base neglect of household duties. He may not go to the primitive lengths of Ischomachus, but in his own way be demands the same sweet regard for duty, and the same diligent fulfillment mental frailties, he has no softness for moral obliquity. He is always in a sense her master, but her master chiefly because he is his own. He has learnt the grace and dignity of self-control, and self-control is not quite the same thing as self-concealment. The one deals with the core, the other with the envelope. The masculine quality suppresses the thought, the inclination. the feeling; the feminine overlays the expression. With true self-controlthat is, with true self-mastery-he is master of all else. And a woman who falls into the hands of a man of this kind-given the lighter outside advantages which touch the taste and gratify the poetic element in love-is the woman of all others to be envied as most blest of her sex. With an iraseible man, a petulant man, a vain and restless and egotistical man, with a brutal temper and coarse impulses, all abroad and unconfined, what happiness can there be? The better the woman the more miserable, because the more disappointed and disillusioned. The worse the woman the more she sinks into that special slough which is her here, or for the infernal force of imitation, perhaps because of the fever of retaliation there. Many a faithless wife of the kind which has no real selfrespect and no sense of right, has gone over the borders because of the faithessness of her husband. And coming down to a yet more degraded platform, drink in him has caused drunkenness In her, or a blow is returned because one has been given. Not Fight against it as much as the new woman may, the sex as a sex is happiest when nobly mastered—that is, when mastered by the justice, the large mindedness, the high principles of the man. Such a man does not make his wife helpless, faineante, selfish, like that earlier type of whom we have spoken. On the contrary, he strengthens her, and helps her to build up herself in more enduring nobleness than she could perhaps have attained unassisted. He supplies her with an unerring rule of right; advising always, not those things which would be most pleasing to the flesh, but those which are most nourishing to the soul, and those which are intrinsically right. And anyone who has ever been under such guidance as this knows the gladness of worthy living-knows that peace which the world neither gives nor can take away. "He for God only, she for God in him?" One of the deepest truths of human life is in this phrase. To the man belongs the independent conception of the nobleness, the grandeur of morality-nobleness and grandcur in a manner self-existent, unrelated. To the woman this, to be perfect, must be mated with individual love. When that love can be given to the husband-when fulfilling in its highest sense the Jewish ideal of the priestly character inherent in the master of the family-the head of the house-she can reverence where she loves, and respect the influence to which she yields, then is there no more to be wished for. Poverty and adversity cannot touch such a marriage as this. Founded on the eternal truth of difference in sex, and on the complementary quality of that difference, it stands four-square to all the winds that blow unussailable, unconquerable and em-

E. LYNN LINTON.

Don't buy baking powder sold at 25 cents a pound or less. It is sure to contain alum. De Price's is perfectly pure. Safe, quick audeure.

The Vision of Birds.

Birds have very acute vision, perhaps the most acute of any creature, and the sense is almost more widely diffused over the retina than is the case with man; consequently a bird can see sidewise as well as objects in front of it. A bird sees showing great un easiness in consequence-a hawk long and pigeons and minute scraps of food, distinguishing them from what appear to us exactly pieces of earth or gravel. Young chickens are also able to find their own food, knowing its position and how distant it is as soon as they are batched, whereas a child only very gradually learns either to see or to understand the distance of objects. See eral birds-apparently the young of all those that nest on the ground-can see quite well directly they come out of the shell, but the young of birds that nest in trees or on rocks are born blind, and have to be fed.

Patti Changed Her Mind

A distinguished instance of a complete revulsion of feeling over one's first impression is said to be afforded in the case of Mme. Adelina Patti. Some years ago she took a pronounced dislike to a French tenor, allowing her unfavorable impression to influence her professionally to the degree that she refused to sing with him. Gradually, however, she grew shie to tolerate then grew fond of, and, finally, when